

The Firm Directory Powered by:

Capture and Share Knowledge in a Way Traditional Channels Don't Offer

Bio

The Firm Directory's next-generation Bio is the single repository that captures and shares the expertise and accomplishments of your partners and associates with rich legal industry-specific profile information including: practice area, skills and endorsements, bar admissions, court affiliations, clients, billing rates, publications, key roles & any other custom fields you would like to include. The Bio also serves as the hub to recognize your attorneys for their accomplishments, skills or help provided on a given matter. Through automatic or permission-based Badging and Endorsements, the Bio lets you reaffirm company culture and values. CIOs and knowledge management professionals will further appreciate the administrative control over configuration, customization and security, and the ability to create firm-specific profile fields.

Get started with The Firm Directory today

For more information on The Firm Directory or to schedule a demonstration visit www.neudesicpulse.com/legal or contact us at pulseinfo@neudesic.com

Firm Directory Search

Looking for a partner with past experience with a specific client or matter? Do you have certain skills in mind and location requirements but are having trouble pinpointing the right resource? Put Firm Directory Search to work and start building your dream team. Explore single or multiple criteria including location, case history, bill rates, skills, court affiliations or your firm's own custom fields.

Configured for SharePoint, Outlook, and Lync

The Firm Directory is pre-configured for SharePoint, Outlook and Lync. This enables your attorneys to access the complete Firm Directory via your intranet, extranet or portal. Attorneys can also easily find and access bio information with a single click in Lync and Outlook. Further integrate with your legal document management, matter management or ECM system with rich extensibility options.

“ We expect that Neudesic Pulse will allow us to capture and share knowledge and expertise across our firm in a way that email or traditional communication channels have not allowed. This in turn will help us identify synergies across our different practices and industries. Additionally, the ability to secure all data behind our firewall and configure our network according to our firm culture and security preferences will help the adoption of Pulse at Reed Smith. ”

- Tom Baldwin, Chief Knowledge Officer

ReedSmith

The business of relationships.

Secure Groups for Client-Matter Related Collaboration

Add the full collaboration capabilities of the Neudesic Pulse Platform to your Firm Directory and enable next-generation secure communication with a robust set of social collaboration features. Assemble and collaborate with your team of attorneys and experts with Pulse groups for client-matter related collaboration. Invite just your firm or include outside parties. With support for ethical walls, client-matter confidentiality, moderation, email, video, and file libraries, Pulse offers document preview and commenting, audit trail, version control and share-as-link capabilities. Neudesic Pulse is a secure on-premises platform that enables your firm to have full control of data and user access.